THE GAZETTE.

FRIDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 23, 1859.

A DACHLUER BELLE. A Munich correspondent of the New York Times, in describing the October Feast in that city, sketches the following likeness of one of its country attendants: There goes a "Dachauer beile!" Her stockines are light blue, printed with black tigers, ings are light blue, printed with black tigers, and visible nearly to the knee. Her head-dress ascends to a point about six inches above her crown, and is surmounted by a git plate, from beneath which escapes two git plate, from beneath which escapes two long, broad ribbons, that reach when wind don't blow, down to her waist. "Down to her waist" is no great distance, for her jacket can hardly be more than three or four mehes long and her skirts begin just under her arms. She is stuffed out at the shoulders till her arms at that point are six inches thick, and taper down to the waist. The tallness of her bosom is augmented in the same manner, and its charms increased by the gold and crimson vest which shows itself under her jacket. But the skirt is the culminating ornament of this, as of all truly fashionable costumes at the present day.-O, crinoline! thou miserable delusion and bollow seeming! Wither into the space which thy real substance and weight entitle thee! Wither and vanish thou sham; tor lo! thou standest in the presence of a Dachauer belle, and a Dachauer belle is a great reality!

Imagine, O ye that wear the "Patent Invisible," or the "Patent Indestructible," or the "Patent Gossamer," imagine the heavi-est broadcloth folded in immense plaits, after the manner of a shut fan, and being made into a skirt, completely filling the space from its outermost circumterence to the blue tiger stockings. Fifty yards of broadcloth in one petticoat. In spite of the great diameter at the bottom, these skirts are so bustled as to be of the same size above, as below, or

They are of dark cloth, except beneath, where the edges of the numerous folds are dyed in the brightest yellow and red. When one of these unwieldy females is actually in a hurry, (as I have seen them at the railway, when there wasn's the least need for it,) and undertakes to run, the sudden display of gorgeous colors is quite startling.

These Dachauer belies are so named from their residence, Dachau, a village in Bayaria. They wear these heavy skirts after their eighth year, and I am told that, for the first two years, their shoulders are quite sore with the weight, (which, of course, is not borne by the waist alone,) but that, after this period they become perfectly callous and insensible.-Like the Dutch beauties of olden time, they signify by their weight of this garment their wealth and standing. An heiress is ranked according to her calibre, like a cannon-she is a twelve, or twenty-four, or forty-eight

A COLD ENTRANCE INTO THE WORLD .- On the evening of the 13th inst., (says the Boston Herald,) Bridgett Long, the wife of one of America's adopted citizens, traversed that bleak and desolate bridge on the line of the N. Y. Central Railroad, which is located about one mile this side of Readville. While pursuing her lonely journey, the pangs of travail seized upon her, and forced a temporary rest upon the cold snow. Thus situated she gave birth to her offspring .- a bouncing boy-and taking the precious charge in her arms resumed her walk to Readville, which she reached in safety. At last accounts, the mother and her offspring were doing well.

To WASH HAIR BRUSHES .- Never used Place it in the air to dry, with the bristles downward, and it will be as firm as a new

A JUSTICE IN DOUBT .- A justice who late ly tried a lady in Cincinnati for cowhiding a gentleman, concluded his decision as follows: "If a man was to attempt to cowhide me I would strike him dead even in the forum; but if a woman were to attack me, I'm d-d if I know what I would do."

they have been constantly before the public, all of them, old and new, proving, by their stability and constancy, the skill with which they are construc-ted. For durability of tone, for evenness and uniformity of work, and for excellence of frames. these PIANOS may well challenge competition. We know instruments of Mr. Worcestor's turn out, that have borne the thumping of fifteen years, and remain as perfect in tone and in build as in their first estate. The number made at this Factory is largely increased from year to year." I am sole Agent in Alexandria, for the above PIANOS, and will furnish any number at Factory prices, 5 per ct. off for cash, or at six months for approved negotiable paper, and warrant every Instrument. SOUTHERN PROTECTION INSURANCE COMPANY, ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA. CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DOLLARS,
AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING.
The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the in sured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the ombination of the CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over seventy thou-sand dollars have been paid for losses. Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospects of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States.

All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the County where such loss happened, to be mutually chosen by the insured and the Company. DIRECTORS: H. W. Thomas. T. B. Robertson, James T.
